Our Edinburgh hotel sits just off the bustling Royal Mile in the Old Town, between Edinburgh's iconic castle and Holyrood Palace. You're right on the doorstep of fabulous shopping, impressive museums and galleries, the striking Georgian and Victorian architecture and during August, the world's biggest arts festival – the Edinburgh Fringe.

Once a poorhouse, then asylum, then science lab, and now a stunning luxury hotel, the building has taken many guises since it was built in 1743. Bursting with character, the hotel features 47 distinctive rooms and suites. They've been designed with the kind of luxury you'd expect from Hotel du Vin, with custom made sleigh beds, hand-sprung mattresses, soft Egyptian cotton bed linen, fluffy towels, robes, and a monsoon shower or in-room roll top bath. In the summer months, our central courtyard transforms into an al fresco dining area, but don't worry if the weather's not on your side – keep safe from the elements at the Bistro du Vin kitchen. Enjoy afternoon tea, a catch up in the bar with a cocktail, a cosy nightcap in the Whisky Snug, or a cigar and tipple in the heated Cigar Bothy.

With the scene set, you'll descend into the depths of the city – and listen in horror to the dark and sinister events which took place over the years. Torture. Murder. Hangings. From body snatchers to real-life characters of the city, you'll be gripped by the true tales that lie hidden beneath Edinburgh's streets, in the underground vaults.

Perhaps you'll experience a cold breath on the back of your neck, or a whisper, perhaps even a flicker – then silence. It's all the more chilling for being absolutely real: there are no tricks or jump scares on our Edinburgh ghost tours.
